Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file is deemed objectionable because it tends to support the exploitation of children for sexual purposes.

The image on the file is a drawing that appropriates a 12 year-old character from a television cartoon series and depicts the girl as a naked prepubescent child whose sexual parts are emphasised. The drawing is a parody, but it is nevertheless a highly sexualized image which perpetuates the idea that sexual images of children are an acceptable subject for entertainment. The availability of such material tends to weaken the social taboos that protect children from abuse and has the potential to lead to their sexual exploitation.

The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
